HOW IT WORKS

Our custom service is for you if you are looking for personalized hands-on service and a one of a kind invitation or announcement. We'll start with an initial consultation, in order to introduce ourselves and learn more about what you are looking for. At this time you can tell us about yourself and your event, mention any mandatory elements that must be included in your custom piece and ask any questions you might have about us or about invitations in general.

DESIGN PROCESS

Based on the consult you'll receive an initial design proof via email. Along with this proof you'll receive a quote outlining all the costs associated with printing the design. You will then have the option to provide us with any feedback and/or revisions that you would like made to your custom design. We will work together with you to build the perfect piece that will compliment your special day precisely.

INITIAL PAYMENT & CONTRACT

Before we start your custom design, we ask that you sign the design contract (provided after your initial design consultation) and return it via email along with the mandatory design fee deposit. We accept check, money order, or credit cards (via PayPal). A separate invoice will be provided once the custom design is approved, including any additional design charges, printing, labeling, and mailing cost that you have chosen.

FINAL APPROVAL (Including Wording)

A final digital proof of all components in your invitation package will be provided to you prior to production. We ask that you carefully look over this proof for spelling adjustments or errors and any final changes you may want to make to the invitation set wording. Once we receive final approval back from you no further changes can be made.

PRODUCTION

Once final approval has been received by DOODLE DOG ADVERTISING you will be billed for the balance of the project. We will print, assemble, and add any embellishments to your invitations. Upon final payment we will ship your invitations to you. Depending on the size of your order, production could take from one to four weeks.

SHIPPING

Shipping charges are included in the final balance payment prior to production. If you have a preferred shipping method please let us know. If you are local, we can make arrangements for an in person pick-up of the invitations.

RETURNS & CANCELLATIONS

Once your order has gone into production no refunds can be given. If your order must be cancelled before production has begun the design deposit will be retained by DOODLE DOG ADVERTISING. Other refunds depend on how far along the project is and what supplies have been purchased.
